

Well-Managed Schools

Student behavior is part of every school and classroom. Being equipped with the right strategies to address behavior and connect with parents can be the difference between a positive school culture and a negative school culture.

When the concepts of Boys Town's Well-Managed Schools workshop are put into practice, everyone is more empowered – students learn to control their emotions and staff know how to maintain a positive culture of learning.

Don't let your academic mission be derailed by disruptive and distracted students – or frazzled and frustrated teachers. Learn how to build and maintain positive relationships and an inclusive learning environment where students stay on task, manage their emotions, take responsibility for their actions and connect with school staff.

An Evidence-Based Education Model that Delivers Real-World Results

The Well-Managed Schools workshop introduces you to the key components of the Boys Town Education Model®, a school-based, multi-tiered program that provides all students with the positive behavior support they need to improve their behavioral and social/emotional deficits and find success in the classroom.

The Education Model is a proactive, whole-child solution to classroom challenges. Schools that implement the Model experience notable changes:

- » Increased academic engagement and instruction time
- » Increased on-task behaviors among students
- » Increased job satisfaction among staff members
- » Reduced office referrals and disruptive behaviors

Apply the strategies you learn in the Well-Managed Schools workshop to successfully address the behavioral, academic and social/emotional learning needs of your students!

A Multi-Tiered System of School-Wide Instruction and Positive Behavior Support

Universal Interventions

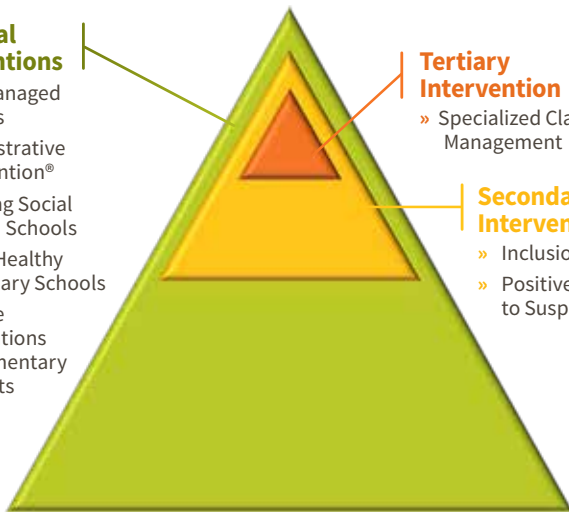

- » Well-Managed Schools
- » Administrative Intervention®
- » Teaching Social Skills in Schools
- » Safe & Healthy Secondary Schools
- » Positive Foundations for Elementary Students

Tertiary Intervention
