

When a student misbehaves it is often because they do not have the skills necessary to behave in a prosocial manner. Processing the misbehavior and teaching replacement skills is an important part of any corrective interaction. A Mediation Essay can be one way to facilitate learning.

Social Skills Mediation Essay:

This worksheet is designed to allow the student to consider the skill he/she needs some further development in, where and why the skill should be used, and how following the steps to that skill could result in positive outcomes for the student, but may help him or her outside of school as well.

Social Skill Essay: _____

Steps to the skill:

Where would I use this skill?

Reasons for using this skill:

Good things that could happen:

How can this skill help me outside of school?